

Book Club Discussion Guide for Cabin Fever

📖 Cabin Fever opens during a mid-winter blizzard and ends in mud season. How effective is weather as a metaphor for Seamus McCree's emotional state?

📖 What do you think of the ethical decisions made by Seamus, Niki, Sgt. Bartelle and Boss? When do ends justify means?

📖 What responsibility should Seamus bear for delaying his retreat from the woods? Is his reaction appropriate?

📖 Other than Seamus, who is your favorite character and why?

📖 Is Seamus a lone wolf? Why or why not?

📖 The author keeps a lot of the actual violence off the page, but a large number of people die in this story. To what extent do you think murder mysteries, thrillers and similar books cheapen the value of life?

📖 Boss justifies actions based on a selected understanding of U.S. history. To what extent should words of the "Founding Fathers" affect decisions made today?

📖 In what ways did Cabin Fever reveal the author's worldview?

📖 What theme(s) did the author emphasize?

📖 What's your prediction for Abigail's relationship with Seamus?
